EPISTLE FROM THE BARONESS

Unto the populace of Jararvellir does Baroness Eithni ingen Talorgain send greetings!

Happy Birthday to the Barony! Perhaps a bit belated, but last month's letter was devoted to the history of the Barony thus far but I still felt a need to get the greeting in during a proper letter to the Populace.

To celebrate the 35th Anniversary of the Barony's founding, we held a Baronial May Day and Educational Symposium at the Mandt Center in Stoughton. Most of the day was devoted to classes, including lectures by Bob Charron (known to some of you as Duke Conn) and my special One Kingdom track of beginners' classes geared toward people interested in trying something different. With a full class schedule, the educational objective of the event was more than met and I think the dissemination of knowledge was a great tribute to the Barony. Other activities of the day included a display of the Barony's historical artifacts, an arts and sciences display to showcase the current activities of the Barony, and tournaments on the heavy and light fields. From the participants in the tourneys and the A&S display I chose the new Baronial Champions. Congratulations to Sarra Romney (A&S), Hroswitha (Rapier), and Robert the Stout (Armored Combat) Jararvellir's new Baronial Champions! As is the custom, we also danced the May Pole to celebrate the coming of spring and Sile, a lady who first found the SCA in Wulfhomm and has recently moved back to the Barony, was named as the new May Queen. As a special treat ALL of Northshield's Landed Baronage were in attendance at the event to wish the Barony well. Thank you to Dame Josceline and all her dedicated crew for putting together such a splendid birthday party to celebrate this milestone year.

The following weekend, Crown Tourney was held in Caer Anterth Mawr. While Count Hrodir did me the honor of bearing my favor all the way into the finals of the tourney, it was Jararvellir's own Count Raito who won the day for the lovely Countess Æsa. Once again, we have royals in Jararvellir! If you are able to offer your time or talents in some way and have not already done so, please contact Their Highness' Chamberlain, Mistress Cassandra Antonelli to see how you may support their reign. Congratulations to Their Highnesses, Raito and Æsa!

Late in May, Jararvellir held another event, ARRG! – Roll the Bones, an event entirely focused on Rapier activities. Once again, the event was held on the lands of Don Michael St. Christian at the lovely White Lake Resort. Fighters and spectators alike had a splendid time with a full weekend of fencing goodness. Thanks to Robert Talbot, our autocrat for the event, and Lady Teffan from Nordskogen who served as the event's MIC.

Summer has barely started and yet we are already looking ahead with great anticipation toward Warriors and Warlords, to be held in Boscobel, WI, July 10-13, 2008. See the webpage for more information: <http://www.warriorsandwarlords.org/> Please remember that this is a Jararvellir event – Volunteer early and often! I look forward to seeing all of you there as we enjoy this beautiful new site!

Yours in Fishy Service,

JUNE GENERAL MEETING MINUTES

In attendance: Cwen, Eithni, Josceline, Marion, Nikolaus, Reinholdt, Ermina, Kristyan, James, Iohanna, Æsa, and Tatiana.

Call to order at 7:05.

Music Guild (Nikolaus): A new person showed up at music guild. They're hoping to see her again. The music guild is gearing up for WW.

Marion: Says hello.

Recent Events (Eithni): May Day and ARRG went well. ARRG had 55 paid adult site fees. After $20 expenses, the income for the event was $254.97, less 55% to the kingdom gave gross income of $199.97. Splendid! Successful!

WW (Eithni): WW is less than 6 weeks out. Volunteer as appropriate. Get your friends to volunteer with you. The range of times is shorter for volunteering, so you shouldn't get bored.

LOCAL NEWS

POTTERY GUILD MEETING

WHEN: Monday June 16th from 6:00-9:00pm (In July, we will be meeting on 7/14)

WHERE: 425 B W. Cottage Grove Rd., Cottage Grove (608) 839-5000

HOW MUCH: There is no dry studio fee. Ceramic bisque ware is a flat fee in the dry studio. In the wet studio, for hand building or throwing, the studio fee is $6.00 and the clay is $6.00/lb used.

If you have any questions, contact Annora at (605) 438-6530.

JARARVELLIR ARTILLERY BRUNCH

Sunday, June 22 at 11am

Please join us Sunday, June 22 at 11:00 a.m. at lovely Hoyt Park. We'll provide the hot coals and condiments, bring a grillable item for yourself. Feel free to provide something else for people to munch on, though it's not required. Please bring your own feastware. After the BBQ, we will retire to the Stock Pavilion at noon to shoot. You are welcome to join us at one or both locations. Loaner equipment is available.

Directions to Hoyt Park:

FROM THE EAST--take your best route to Regent St. Head west on Regent, keep going past West High School and the cemeteries. Continue on Regent, it will take you into Hoyt Park. Keep driving past the sign for the park and the parking lot for the large park shelter (on your right), continue down the street as it meanders along. Eventually the houses on the left give way to an expanse of lawn with picnic tables and stone fireplaces. On the right, the woods with picnic tables and stone fireplaces drop away and a scenic overlook with parking for several cars appears just before the road starts to meander downhill. Park there. Go across the street to the table with the SCA people sitting at a table with a tablecloth.

FROM THE WEST--take your best route to Midvale Blvd. Turn onto Hillcrest, located halfway between the Mineral Point and Regent intersections. Go several blocks on Hillcrest and turn left onto Owen Parkway (note that you will pass Owen Dr. along the way). The street sign is hard to see, but if you reach Westmoreland you went 1 block too far. Owen Parkway will take you up into Hoyt Park and turn into Regent St. Look for the lawn with stone BBQ's on your right and the scenic pullout on your left. You can park in the pullout, or continue down the street to a lot on your left as you leave the park.

Greetings!

WW is less than 2 months away! We have a beautiful new site with all the great activities WW is known for - fighting, classes, singing, fighting, socializing, shopping, and even more fighting! The event website has been updated with new information about the site, including a site map and FAQ. Also, the armored combat, rapier and archery schedules have been posted! Take a look at <http://www.warriorsandwarlords.org> for all things WW-related, and keep checking back for updates.

For those who know things and want to share them by teaching a class, we still have plenty of openings for classes. Contact Baroness Khadijah if you are interested. Her contact info is posted on the WW webpage.

We look forward to seeing you soon!

In service,

THE AUTOCRATS AND STAFF OF WARRIORS AND WARLORDS

14-15—Beltaine: Scottish "Bring Out Your Plaid!", Darkstone (Ashland WI)

July 2008

19—River Revel III, Stromfels (River Falls WI)

August 2008

1-3—Poor Man's Pennsic, Falcon's Keep (Arpin WI)

22-23—Griffin's Needle Challenge, Jararvellir (Jefferson WI)

23—Central Area Regional Fighter Practice and Moot, Inner Sea (Superior WI)

29-31—Autumn Rose, Rokeclif (Galesville WI)

Gryphon's Needle (Eithni): Gryphon's Needle has 6 teams and there are rumblings of other teams arranging themselves for the competition.

Mill Bluff Demo (Eithni): The demo at Mill Bluff is this Sunday from 10 am to 4 pm. Jois will be bringing the archery equipment, so there will be some archery, and some heavy weapons, but we're not certain about rapier. There will be modern folks roaming looking at merchandise in tents and watching the various demonstrations.

Leukemia Lymphoma Society Donations (Eithni): Eithni has a request for donations for the Leukemia Lymphoma Society looking to pool contributions to achieve the status of gold sponsor for the SCA. Nordskogen has given $50. [After some discussion and voting about whether to give, and then how much, it was determined that the barony will donate $100] The amount for qualifying as a gold sponsor is $10,000 for 2 seasons, and the deadline is end-of-May. The SCA is already a gold sponsor for 2008. This donation will go toward the 2009 listing. The question was raised as to whether there might be a donation can at WW. Æsa will check. Actually, the suggestion was to have a donation competition at WW. Æsa will check.

Pursuivant (Reinholdt): Proposed Kristyan Applegate as next Jararvellir herald, to take office at WW after the next report is in. [The written vote was 11 yea, 1 nay. She is selected] The Dark Heralds of the Sith is changing. Look for word of the new name.

Flesh Wound (Kristyan): Flesh Wound for 2009 will be in the last Saturday in January.

Exchequer (Tatiana): The final tally for the 35th anniversary celebration is in – The event brought in profit of $722.10. Others noted that the under-budget feast and lunch were the major contributin factor for this.

Cwentrith: says hello.

MoAS (Ermina): As Minister of the Arts and Sciences for the barony, is putting out a call for instructors to let themselves be known to her. Second Tuesday at Ermina's will be an evening of creating underpants – each person participating can expect to come away with a pattern for their own.

WW (Æsa): We really need volunteers. Kadijah says all the classes are fully booked, so there's lots to learn.

Baronial Pavilion (Iohanna): The Jara pavilion needs maintenance. Last year some ropes came up short. [Propose $100 be earmarked for pavilion maintenance so that Ed the Tall presents receipts to us, not WW staff]

Ed the Tall (via Eithni): Gas for the 35th anniversary celebration transportation was $192. We gave him $150. [By vote decided to reimburse him the rest of this cost] The cost of list pole repair was $17.52. Ed has given receipts to Tatiana. [By vote we reimburse his cost]

Webminister (James): I am here.

35th Anniversary (Josceline): Cooks were well-budgeted and well organized, so the 35th celebration was profitable.

July General Meeting (Josceline): July General Meeting will be on the last Sunday in June, that being June 29.

7:35 Adjourn.

Stoughton Road, social practice was at the Country Kitchen on Milwaukee St. When fighting practice was held at an old hangar at Morey Airport, social practice started out at Claddagh in Greenway Station. Claddagh had ambience ("a cool turret room with a big round table that they let us use" recalls Josceline) but was expensive. The gathering moved to Perkins on University, but the lack of alcohol made that an unpopular choice. So, the group moved down a block to Irish Waters on Whitney Way, where it stayed until Irish Waters went out of business in 2005. While Irish Waters was popular, it presented its own challenges, as Josceline recalls, "After the smoking ban took effect in Madison in July of 2005, Irish Waters scaled back their operating hours and began closing their kitchen at 10 pm rather than 11:00. We still made it work. I used to take food orders from the fighters and fencers who planned to arrive later and send those orders to the kitchen just before 10, so the food was ready when people arrived."

In the aftermath, social practice has again wandered from one location to another. The basic issue with finding an ideal location has been roughly the same from its beginnings: finding a place where people can get both food and drink; where underage attendees are welcome; where the kitchen (and the establishment) stays open late enough that folks can get served after 10pm on a Wednesday; where the noise level is manageable, but conversations across the table will not be frowned upon; and where folks can gather affordably and conveniently to unwind.

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES

Like everything in the SCA, WW relies on volunteers - opportunities to help make WW happen abound, and all offer the chance to reconnect with old friends and meet new people. Volunteer sign-up schedules are available for several areas including the Gate, Info Point, Security, and Site Cleanup. For Info Point specifically, Shava offers the following incentive: Each person who volunteers for Information Point will be able to pick something from a grab bag of prizes or treats. They will also be entered in a drawing for a really great prize at the end of the event. Shava is not above bribing volunteers even though she knows that the fun of volunteering should be prize enough. Please check out the volunteer position descriptions and signups at: <http://www.warriorsandwarlords.org/volunteer.html>

If you do not have internet access and wish to volunteer, contact Æsa at 608-354-4207.

35 YEARS OF FISHINESS: SOCIAL PRACTICE

by Paul Wickenden of Thanet

There are at least two ways to approach history: by looking at important events (wars, leadership successions, births and deaths, etc.) or by trying to uncover the more mundane day-to-day activities of the people who lived in those days. The SCA, while paying some attention to the former, dedicates itself to the latter, seeking the less-told stories of the common past. It is thus a bit ironic that attempts to write the history of the SCA itself are overwhelmingly focused on the important events (who was crowned, elevated, won the tourney, etc.). It begs the question: how much will you learn of the Barony's history by a recounting of who got what award at what event? Or who won crown tourney that Spring? If a group of 14th century gentles wanted to form a Society for Creative Prochronism (Motto: "the future not as it will be but as it should be"), would it be the Crown Tournaments and Coronations they would reenact? Probably not. I would wager it would be social practice!

Social Practice (or "drinking practice," as it is sometimes known) is held on Wednesday nights at a local establishment that offers both food and drink late into the night. Many of the attendees come after their activities at the Stock Pavilion are completed for the night, but others involved in non-martial interest groups also attend for the purposes of mingling and socializing. In addition to its social and gustatory aspects, social practice also often includes a variety of craft activities and opportunities for discussing issues related to local activities, events past and present, and even modern topics of importance. However, unlike most of the guilds and activities in the Barony, there is no explicit purpose to Social Practice other than to enjoy the company of the other attendees.

Social practice has formed an integral part of the fabric of the Barony for nearly three decades, but is strangely undocumented. The first official announcement of its meeting place and time did not even appear until the March 2002 Skein (and then, mostly because we were in our awkward phase where we were exiled from the Stock Pavilion). Yet, the minutes of General Meeting make frequent reference to it throughout the 1980s, so it was no secret.

What do we know about the origins of social practice? It is very likely that SCAdians have long gathered for post-practice imbibing within Jararvellir. In fact, since the SCA began as a party, it would be very difficult to separate the two activities. But the most concrete information we have is that social practice (as a weekly post-Wednesday-night-fighter-practice happening) probably started around 1980. Shava recalls that "I was one of a few people, including Giles, who thought it odd to just go to Fighting Practice and then go home without being social. Obviously we needed practice being social, so it started up."

From the start, it was a challenge to find suitable accommodations. The first place that folks tried (McNamara's) closed within a month so the gathering had to be relocated down the street to Clancy's (located on King and Mifflin). As the gathering was mostly centered around drinking (our younger members may need to be reminded that in those days the legal age was still 18!), it was also called "drinking practice" in jest.

For reasons diverse and political (and which we will skip over), a second faction formed in those days that chose to meet at Ella's Deli (at the now-defunct State Street location). As Ella's did not provide alcohol, the second group became known as "ice cream practice," although collectively, both extracurricular gatherings were known as "social practice." A small number of folks (like Giles and Shava) attended both groups, but for the most part, people kept to their own.

The ice cream practice group eventually died down, Clancy's closed, and (after a number of other drinking practice sites were attempted) the gathering consolidated to the Brat und Brau on Regent (currently, the location of Lucky's Bar and Grill), where it stayed for some time. It also happily provided a site where 18-21 year-olds could go, as the liquor laws of the modern world were in flux. As a result, Brat und Brau served as a catalyst to unite the two factions, as Josceline notes, "It was classified as a restaurant, although it had a full bar, so it wasn't limited to folks 21 and over. It also had ice cream, so gradually the ice cream practice group started going there as well. We still called it 'drinking practice' for a number of years. The Brat und Brau probably had the highest regular attendance of any Wednesday night social practice we ever had. That was a period of great interaction between different interest groups in the Barony, which helped foster political harmony and baronial pride."

After the Brat und Brau closed in the mid 90s, the gatherings wandered from one location to another, never quite able to find a suitable location. The Come Back In was too noisy, Bullfeather's didn't work out, and The Living Room began closing their kitchen too early. A relatively long-ish tenure at La Hacienda provided a private dining room and good food (including a social practice favorite queso fundido con chorizo, also known as "heart attack in a bowl"), but the private room (located in the basement) was musty and people with mold allergies complained. Others said that they were tired of Mexican food.

In the Fall of 2001, the Barony lost use of the Stock Pavilion for Wednesday night practices and as fighter practice moved from one site to another, so did social practice. When fighter practice was held at Turner Hall on South
